

PLANT CHICAGO MARKET SUPPORTER PROGRAM

Why support the market?

Your donation will allow us to:

- Provide a robust marketplace for local farmers, food producers, and artisans.
- Engage Back of the Yards and the greater Chicago community with fresh, nutritious produce.
- Support the work of farmers and food producers employing sustainable practices.
- Provide free nutrition, growing, and cooking education to underserved populations.
- Double the value of Link & Senior Coupon purchases at the market.
- Create a safe community gathering space for sharing food, knowledge, and culture.

Plus, access to exclusive supporter benefits (see next page for details)!

“The market has given me the opportunity to create much needed income for my family. [It is] truly an incubator for businesses that otherwise would never be able to get help through conventional methods.”

Temo Rivera, Temo's Tamales

“[The market] is an amazing opportunity to invest in the community and educate the neighborhood on why our food production process is so important. We are huge believers that real food education is the very base to any society”

Wesley Ervin, Pleasant House

“We were first involved as vendors. That was a very good time of my life, because you are creating something, you are being productive. [Now, being a visitor] my daughter and I have the opportunity to feel nature and to have a farmers market just steps from our house.”

Mariluz Rios, neighborhood resident

Plant Chicago is a 501c3 nonprofit with a mission to develop circular economies while empowering people of all backgrounds to make their cities healthier and more efficient.
